

FIRE SAFETY TIPS - BE FIRE SMART

- Know before you go — fire danger level and weather conditions
- Plan your emergency route (see map inside)
- Be informed about restricted access to the national forest
- Campfires are only allowed at approved sites
- Obtain a campfire permit — required for campfires, barbecues and portable stoves (subject to restriction by local authorities)
- Safely put out and discard cigarettes and other burning material
- Clear a 10-foot space around your fire
- Fireworks are illegal, including Safe and Sane
- Operate equipment fitted with a spark arrester
- Do not ride your brakes while driving down the mountain
- Bring snow chains in winter

SERVING THE MOUNTAIN AREA

Formed in 2002, the Mountain Area Safety Taskforce (MAST) has significantly reduced the fire threat in the San Bernardino and San Gabriel Mountains, removing more than one million dead, dying or diseased trees.

However, the fire danger remains high.

Years of drought, bark beetle infestation and a century of fire suppression have left the forest tinder dry with the potential for a catastrophic wildfire.

Healthy forest initiatives are restoring the vigor of the forest so we can all enjoy this natural resource for generations to come.
